

"BIG TIM" FIGURED IN THE TESTIMONY

Tammany Man Mixed Up in the Great Graft Game at Albany.

New York, March 22.—The name of State Senator Timothy T. Sullivan, familiarly known as "Big Tim," figured in the fire insurance inquiry today when George F. Seward, president of the Fidelity & Casualty company, testified a representative of "Big Tim" offered in 1891 or 1892, to "put off" a bill objectionable to the company for a consideration of $10,000.

Sullivan, who came to New York to fight the charge seriously, Seward's testimony, he said, was merely hearsay, and does not concern him. The bill became a law in 1892.

Elmer R. Kennedy, for years a lobbyist at Albany for the New York board of fire underwriters, was on the stand today, and through him, State Insurance Superintendent Hotchkiss developed interesting testimony of incidents in years gone by, including an alleged offer of a one-time assemblyman, named Towne, to kill a bill for $40,000. No testimony was adduced to show where Towne is at present.

Besides his reference to "Big Tim" Sullivan, Seward intimated there has been collusion in former years between the state department of insurance and certain life insurance companies.

The Grady reinsurance bill, which, as shown yesterday, was passed after three foreign companies had spent a large sum for its advancement, figured in the testimony. When Kennedy was on the stand he was asked why it was former Governor B. E. Odell, after vetoing the bill, recalled it and approved it.

"The reinsurance companies wanted the bill, and they had powerful friends," said the witness.

"Who were they?"

"I am thinking of one in particular. He was very prominent. He is dead."

He asked to be excused from revealing the name and Mr. Hotchkiss did not press him.

MASQUE BALL BIG SUCCESS.

A grand masquerade ball was given by the Daughters of Veterans at the I. O. O. F. hall last night. A good sized crowd of dancers enjoyed the social. Old Mother Goose, Little Red Riding Hood, the ever present tramp, dominoes by the dozen, and characters of almost all nations were in evidence. The success of the masquerade was due in great measure to the efforts of Mrs. Mary B. Lawrence, president, and Miss Mossie Koby, vice president of the organization.

LAND THROWN OPEN.

Notice has been received by the register and receiver of the local land office from the general land office at Washington of the cancellation of a withdrawal from entry covering about seven townships along the Grand river in Grand and San Juan counties. The land which is thrown open is said to be rich in agricultural possibilities. The same notice, however, withdraws from entry about 12,000 acres of land for temporary power site purposes in the same district along the Grand river.

TRAINMEN KILLED.

Lexington, Ky., March 22.—Three trainmen were killed and twelve other persons injured in a head-on collision between two freight trains on the Kentucky Central division of the Louisville & Nashville railroad at White station, Kentucky, today.

"THE LION AND THE MOUSE."

Speaking of "The Lion and the Mouse," which comes to the Colonial next week, the Seattle Times says:

"Beauty without brains is a common thing. Brains without beauty is a common thing. But beauty and brains rarely—on the stage, especially. The combination, however, exists in a high degree in Miss Carolyn Elberts, the lead-stone of 'The Lion and the Mouse,' that virile drama of present day life which opened at the Grand yesterday afternoon. 'The Lion and the Mouse' is a friend of Seattle theatregoers. Miss Elberts is a stranger. That is, she was until yesterday.

In the first act, when, as Shirley Rossmore, she appears fresh from Europe in the humble home of her father, who is about to be ground under the wheels of the money power. Miss Elberts' efforts are quite subdued. So much so that you begin to wonder if it is another case of beauty without brains. The second act sees her likewise subdued. But in the third act, when her best opportunity comes in the big denunciation scene, Miss Elberts proves her worth and her enthusiastic audience rose to her at the curtain with wave after wave of unbridled applause. It was really a triumph.

Walter Edwards, as the cynical, hard-headed business man of many millions, against whom Miss Elberts was pitted in the battle of brains, gives a performance wholly his own. Mingling sentiment with business, he has done most for the business man and it is so when 'The Lion' attempts to outwit 'The Mouse.'

AT THE MISSION.

This afternoon and tonight will be the last opportunity of witnessing the excellent bill which has been offered at the Mission, a bill that has done much to get hundreds of Salt Lake people into the Mission hall. So great have been the requests for the bill, that the Mission has decided to repeat the bill on Thursday evening. The bill is a play on the life of a lecturer on health rules, physical culture and kindred subjects, that the diving of beauty has conspired to make it a play again at the close of this afternoon's matinee.

"THE GREAT DIVIDE."

"The Great Divide," declared by many to be the greatest drama of western life yet written in the history of the American stage, is filling the theatre. That it is very popular with the large audiences drawn to see this highly interesting play. The usual Wednesday matinee will be given this afternoon.

ELITE THEATRE.

A picture story taken on the western plains and introducing real Indians and cowboys, which is being shown at the Elite theatre this week, is one of the most thrilling subjects of frontier life ever exhibited here. A new phase of Indian character is depicted in this film and providing a wonderful and usually do. Crowded houses during the week have been the rule.

"THE FIFTH COMMANDMENT."

So many requests have been made for at least one performance of Julius Steger's musical drama, "The Fifth Commandment," in which he made so great a success all over the United States and Canada, that the management of the Orpheum has secured Mr. Steger's consent to announce a special performance of this vaudeville gem on Thursday evening. Mr. Steger is playing the way to "Heart," a little drama which many competent critics believe to be as meritorious in quality and in its execution as the supporting company is all that can be desired and adds very materially to the production. Sherlock Holmes in "The Sign of the Four" is a very interesting story and one which appeals. The book proved to be so popular with readers of fiction, that the dramatist was immediately made and the play has proven even more popular than the book. There will be a matinee today.

LORCH AT GRAND.

Theodore Lorch, as Sherlock Holmes in "The Sign of the Four," is making a decided hit with theatregoers who have visited the Grand during the present week. Mr. Lorch is at his best and plays the master role better than ever, and the supporting company is all that can be desired and adds very materially to the production. Sherlock Holmes in "The Sign of the Four" is a very interesting story and one which appeals. The book proved to be so popular with readers of fiction, that the dramatist was immediately made and the play has proven even more popular than the book. There will be a matinee today.

YOUTHS HOLD UP SALOON.

Two Robbers Compel Four Men to Throw Up Hands.

Two young men, apparently less than 20 years of age, held up the Sunshine saloon, 156 West South Temple street, at 11:45 o'clock last night, and robbed the cash register of $125. Besides Bert Parks, the bartender, there were three customers in the saloon. The two young men were made to throw up their hands and shut their eyes until one of the highwaymen had rifled the cash register of all it contained.

Parks, the bartender, says that the hold-ups were merely fraternal, and he believes that one of them was less than 17 years of age. The other, probably three years his senior, was attired in overalls and wore spurs. He held the bartender and customers at bay with a revolver while his youthful assistant filled his pockets with bills and silver.

A squad of policemen under Sergeant J. J. Roberts surrounded the premises a few minutes after the holdup, taking the two men into custody who partially answered the description of the highwaymen. It later developed that they were honest workmen.
